

On Tue, June 12, 2012 at 7:12 am from his email: Clear Funding <clearfunding@aol.com

“Hello,

I received your response regarding our NON PG funding programs. Right now we are averaging less than 30 days from start to finish for funding, and funding amounts are coming in at 300-350k. Here's how the process works.

1) We purchase a 5yr corporation and build it out so that it's ready for funding. We've been working with the banks for many years and we know what they want to see and we deliver.

2) We charge an upfront fee for the cost of the corp and our backend fee is 10% of total funding, payable within seven days of funding. The upfront fee is $4250 and once that is paid we purchase the corp and get to work.

3) Your funding breakdown is as follows: 65% in the form of cash lines of credit, 35% in the form of major credit cards, i.e, Amex, Discover, Visa, etc...

Yours in Service,

Craig Barringer
Clear Funding Solutions LLC”

Then On Tue, Jun 12, 2012 at 10:59 AM I email him this:

Please provide me the docs to get started. Can we pay the upfront fees with credit cards?

Then On Tue, Jun 12, 2012 at 12:55 PM

“I'm out of the office today but will send over our service agreement and contract docs tomorrow morning. We don't take credit cards for the corp purchase but we can take some of the upfront fees ($1500) and roll them to the back end for a $425 fee.

Payment options:

Personal check (subject to standard clearing process)
Cashier's Check
Bank to Bank wire transfer

Yours in service,

Craig Barringer
Clear Funding Solutions LLC